

Mr. Kwek Kok Kwong

Chief Executive Officer
NTUC LearningHub (LHUB)

Kwek Kok Kwong has been the Chief Executive Officer of NTUC LearningHub (LHUB) since February 2013. Prior to joining NTUC, Kok Kwong served with distinction in the Singapore Armed Forces (SAF) for 27 years before retiring as a Brigadier General on 31 July 2012. Under his leadership, LHUB has further strengthened its contributions as a key player in Singapore for training in Workplace Safety and Health, IT, Service Excellence and Workplace Literacy. The organisation continues to transform companies and individuals, offering holistic solutions towards business and personal excellence. Kok Kwong is a strong advocate in lifelong learning. He graduated with Honours in Mathematics from the University of Cambridge in 1989, a Masters of Arts (Arts and Social Sciences) in 1993, and a Masters in Public Administration, with the Lucius N. Littauer Fellow distinction in 2002. In his free time, Kok Kwong enjoys exploring new knowledge through various seminars and books, and is also a certified Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP) practitioner.
