

Dato' Chevy Beh

Founder & CEO
BookDoc

Dato' Chevy Beh is a contributor to Forbes.com.

He graduated from the University of Virginia with a double major in Economics and East Asian Studies. He was awarded the "Most Promising Entrepreneurship Award" at the 2012 Asia Pacific Entrepreneurship Awards (APEA), Top Nominee for the "Ernst & Young's Entrepreneur of the Year" for two consecutive years 2013 & 2014, and "Great Entrepreneur" Brand Icon Leadership Award 2015 by Brand Laureate. In 2016, he is nominated for MIT Technology Review, Innovators Under 35 Asia. He's very passionate about Polo and was the first in Asia ever awarded the National Inter-Collegiate American All Star in 2007. Beh is a frequent speaker at healthcare, technology and leadership conferences, domestic as well as international.

Synopsis:

How To Drive Transformation In Healthcare to Stay Relevant with Time

Digital technologies are revolutionizing all types of businesses with no exception to healthcare. Mobile and cloud technologies hold the promise to provide quality patient care anytime, anywhere with immediate access. Healthcare ecosystem is slowly changing, and we're looking at ways, how these transformations could leveraged on technology.