

Mr. Rashid Mohiuddin

Assistant Honorary Secretary
Project Management Institute
Singapore Chapter (SPMI)

Rashid Mohiuddin is an IT leader with a strong passion for delivering greater business value by employing project management standards, innovation, right technologies and collaborative teams. More than 17 years of professional experience in various geographical, technology and business environments. Worked for leading multi-national organizations, such as Credit Lyonnais, Siemens, Fujitsu, FedEx – and currently at J&J where he leads the development of big data and analytics solutions in the Asia Pacific region. Rashid has also served as an adjunct lecturer at Newcastle University (UK)-Singapore Institute of Technology and Vice President of itsSMF Singapore Chapter.

Rashid holds an MBA from University of Birmingham, MS (Computing) from National University of Singapore and Bachelors in Computer Systems Engineering from N.E.D University of Engg. & Tech, Karachi. He is a certified PMP, ITIL Foundation, PRINCE2 Foundation, COMIT(Associate) , P3O Registered Practitioner, Certified Scrum Master and also a Dale Carnegie Graduate.

Rashid is serving as the Asst. Honorary Secretary of Project Management Institute Singapore (SPMI), and the Alumni Ambassador of University of Birmingham in Singapore.

Synopsis:

A Treacherous Job Market – How to be a HERO? Not a victim

The global economy is going through a roller coaster ride, the geopolitical uncertainties are rising every day, and the businesses are popping up and vanishing at a rate never seen before! So who is at the centre of this perfect storm? YOU! Yes, it is the Project Manager who is always at the forefront of transformations. So how to prepare ourselves to brace these unprecedented challenges? How to develop the awareness, insight and substance to objectively assess the situation? How to build and offer the services that the market demands?

In this interactive session, Rashid will share a simple yet powerful model to reflect on our professional goals, strengths and the business environment. The participants will identify the essential elements for anchoring and positioning them for the professional success, something he calls the Professional Value Core. He strives to awake the HERO in us to defeat the odds and come out victorious in this treacherous job market.