

Ms. Ricky Nowak

CEO Director
Ricky Nowak and Associates

Ricky Nowak is a high energy and dynamic Facilitator, Presenter and Executive Coach who works with leaders to increase their effectiveness and enhance their results.

She is passionate about developing authentic business leaders from the 'C' suite to all levels of business which has given her true insight into authentic behaviour, actions and results. She transfers this ability to her clients and helps them implement and sustain long term improvements that flow directly to the bottom line. She is a Certified Human Resource Professional, author of 4 business books, Certified Executive Coach for the Australian Institute of Company Directors and runs her own successful Leadership Development business for over 18 years.

Her client list includes diverse industries from Engineering and Construction, Legal and Finance to Technology and Agriculture. She is a well known and respected professional speaker around Australasia.

She is one of only about 80 Australians to hold the distinguished globally Certified Speaking Professional Accreditation, and globally certified coach to many CEO's and leaders.

Synopsis:

Audacious Leadership

There has never been a more important time in business than now for leaders in Project Management to create their own audacious leadership style, focus and position. Yet stepping out from the competition, creating enduring relationships, demonstrating distinctive behaviours and making breakthrough decisions can be out of reach or out of sight for many. Therefore knowing how to lead with the positive audacity of conviction, courage or care will be the defining feature that will help them lift the bar and not their blood pressure when it comes dealing with difficult and challenging situations and people.

This keynote will provide insightful and provocative processes for Project Managers to:

- Rethink their definition and understanding of 'Audacious' and convert it from a negative into an imperative so they can build business and client retention.
- Go from a well-meaning manager to a proactive visionary and implementer.
- Regain a better balance and appreciation between people and process so that they enjoy the work they do by staying on track, on time and on purpose and budget.